

Become a part of our community of innovation. Become a part of SciWorks.

While we cannot always predict the forces that will shape the future, we can prepare our children for the world of scientific discovery and technological innovation required by a 21st Century economy. Strong and vibrant science centers are an essential part of teaching these skills in our local community, which includes Winston-Salem, the City of Arts & Innovation.

SciWorks, Winston-Salem's interactive, hands-on science center, is Where Innovation Begins for the children of Winston-Salem and throughout North Carolina. Become a part of our community of innovation. An investment in SciWorks is an investment in our children's future.

Three Ways to Give:

SciWorks Annual Fund

Where Innovation Begins Fundraising Event
